4TH REGIMENT IS READY FOR TRIP ACROSS OCEAN

Gov. Cox Bids Ohio Boys
Goodbye and Godspeed
at Mineola

FIRST OHIO REGIMENT TO VISIT FOREIGN LAND

United With 69th New York
As Part of the Famous
Rainbow Division

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Mills, Mineola, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Coming: "to the very edge of the ocean to speak what is in the heart of every Ohioan." Governor James M. Cox of Ohio today bid farewell to members of the old Fourth regiment Ohio National Guard in camp here as a part of the Rainbow regiment soon to sail for France.

"You are the first Ohio regiment in all history of our government to cross the ocean," said Governor Cox. "It is a compliment to the officers and men of the Fourth Ohio to have been among this division and to be thrown into the strength of the western front means that no organization is fitter than your own."

The high ideals for which the men will fight in the present conflict were emphasized by the governor who also paid tribute to the services rendered by La Fayette during the early days of this country's history, and said that America's aid to France "when a military autocracy threatened to pillage their land and destroy their government is the most impressive service of gratitude that history will ever write."

The fact that the Sixty Ninth New York and the Fourth Ohio are brigaded together turned the governor back to civil war times. He told of how troops and the New York regiment, having a continuous history since that time, had fought side by side under General Hancock and predicted that both units would show the same valor and courage now as they did then.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 4.—The urgent deficiency bill, carrying $7,727,434,110, was taken up in the house today with prompt adoption virtually assured.

As agreed upon in conference, the bill carries the largest amount, it is said, ever appropriated by any government at one time. It provides for the disbursement of $5,355,976,016 in cash and grants authorization of $2,401,458,393 in contracts. The funds will be devoted almost entirely to the payment of war expenses.

OHIO CONDITIONS GOOD.
Washington, Oct. 4.—Continuation of generally good business conditions throughout the country was announced today by the federal reserve board in its monthly review. The report for the Cleveland district shows: "Aside from the scarcity of coal, general business is fairly satisfactory."

BERNSTORFF HAD FINGER IN DEAL WITH BOLO PASHA

Evidence Showing That Am-

DIPLOMAT DIRECTED THE WORK OF PARIS TRAITOR

"Willie" Hearst Was Bolo's
Guest at Dinner in New York City in March, 1916

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Oct. 4.—Evidence indicating that German funds held by New York banks for the Deutsche Bank of Berlin, and which were employed to pay Bolo Pasha, German spy and peace propagandist, were placed at the disposal of Count von Bernstorff by wireless messages from the German foreign office was obtained today by State Attorney General Merton T. Lewis.

This evidence conclusively proves, according to the attorney general, that Count von Bernstorff had a direct hand in directing the activities of Bolo Pasha, who is now under arrest in Paris. It was obtained, he said, from Hugo Schmidt, agent here of the Deutsche bank whom he examined today.

Subpoenaed to appear before the attorney general today, Schmidt produced the text of eight wireless messages in code exchanged between him and the German foreign office in March and April, 1916, while Bolo was in this country. The messages authorized Schmidt to place at the disposal of Count von Bernstorff several millions of dollars held in New York banks to the account of the Deutsche bank, one of them being the Guaranty Trust company.

In these messages von Bernstorff was referred to as Charles Gledhill; the German foreign office was known as William Foxley, and the Guaranty Trust company was called Fred Hooven.

The messages, said Mr. Lewis, served as links in a chain of evidence showing how German money was transferred to France by way of New York.

The investigation of Attorney General Lewis into the activities of Bolo Pasha disclosed that William Randolph Hearst, the newspaper publisher, attended a dinner given in this city by Bolo Pasha in March, 1916, according to the attorney general. It was explained by the attorney general that the editor's relations with Bolo were purely social, as far as he was aware.

The attorney general was busy today examining further witnesses in the Bolo Pasha matter. Further disclosures are expected.

That German money was furnished here by Count von Bernstorff to Bolo Pasha, under arrest in Paris as a spy, was forwarded today to the French government. It was announced last night by Merton E. Lewis, state attorney general.

The attorney general, who investigated Bolo Pasha's activities here at the request of Ambassador Jusserand, said that it was a preliminary report submitted by him to the ambassador last week, which resulted in the arrest of Bolo Pasha in Paris.

The conclusion will be substantiated by a mass of documentary evidence, the attorney general's statement said, "including photographic reproductions of the checks, bank records and other proofs of the disposition of the German money furnished Bolo Pasha in this country by ex-Ambassador Bernstorff."

GERMANS ASK LABOR LEADERS TO SPEED UP MUNITION WORK

(Associated Press Telegram)
Copenhagen, Oct. 4.—Leaders of various groups of German labor were received at main army headquarters this week, not for the purpose of congratulating Field Marshal von Hindenburg on his birthday, as first was intimated, but in an effort to have German workmen speed up the production of munitions. The leaders submitted to General von Ludendorff, the chief quartermaster general, complaints of the laboring classes. These dealt particularly with the operation of the compulsory labor service law. A lengthy conference was devoted to discussing the possible improvement of the condition of labor and the maintenance of the output of munitions, which General von Ludendorff declared was the cardinal duty of the hour.

Recently private but trustworthy reports have been received by the Associated Press that the German authorities were experiencing difficulty in preventing a falling off in the production of munitions owing to the lowering of the working capacity of the individual, underfed workmen and the scarcity of certain raw materials, notably the more metals used in the manufacture of high-grade steels. There have been persistent reports that nickel was embarrassingly short in Germany. It is doubtful also if Germany will be able to keep pace with further increase in Anglo-American production if, indeed, it is now even holding its own.

Reliable reports from so widely separated sector of the western front in Flanders and the Argonne say that the German artillery has strict orders to spare ammunition in every way possible.

PROCEEDING SATISFACTORILY.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Amsterdam, Oct. 4.—Fears that Germany might possibly be unable to continue fighting owing to the lack of raw materials have been answered by Major General Schuech, the new minister of munitions, who, according to a dispatch from Berlin, says:

"Regarding the supply of raw materials, particularly those required for the manufacture of guns and munitions we are not dependent solely on the stock in hand, which, however, would be insufficient. We have to produce them and this production is proceeding satisfactorily."

General Schuech admitted that production was interrupted temporarily last year because of transport difficulties. Although these seem to have been overcome, the minister of munitions expects a probable recurrence the coming winter.

FRENCH RAID TWO GERMAN CITIES BY USE OF AIR FLEET

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, Oct. 4.—Another aerial raid over Germany was made last night by French aviators. The cities of Frankfurt and Rastatt were bombed. The following official announcement was given out:

"In reprisal for the bombardment of Bar-Le-Duc our aviators bombed Frankfurt and Rastatt."

Rastatt is a town of 14,000 in Baden fourteen miles southwest of Karlsruhe. This is the second attack on Frankfurt in the last week, since the French inaugurated their policy of reprisal raids.

VOTE INSURANCE BILL TODAY.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 4.—With the final vote on the administration soldiers and sailors insurance bill set for late today, the senate this morning resumed debate on the measure. Passage of the bill virtually is assured after which it will go to conference where a speedy agreement is anticipated.

MAY ASK GARFIELD TO SETTLE DISPUTE OVER MINERS' PAY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 4.—Reference of differences between coal operators and miners of the central competitive field to Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator, for settlement, appeared probably today when the two sides still could not agree on a proposal readjustment of the miners' wage-scale.

The chief difficulty now is the question of how long the new contract shall run. Operator representatives want it to end with the termination of the war, but the miners want it made for a term of two years, dating from next April. Some operators in Illinois and Ohio also, it was said today, are holding back on the proposal to meet the miners' offer to accept a 10 per cent increase a ton in pay for pick-and-mine-mining and a $1.50 a day raise in the pay of day-labor.

COMMITTEE WILL NOT RECOMMEND AN IMPEACHMENT

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 4.—Decision as to what action it shall take on petitions demanding expulsion of Senator LaFollette was again postponed today by the senate privileges and elections committee. Another meeting will be held tomorrow when it is hoped to determine whether any action shall be taken, and if so, whether before or after adjournment of the present session.

The committee is considering various courses. Today the non-partisan speech at St. Paul. The committee virtually decided that there was no prima facie basis extending any investigation, if one should be decided upon, to Senators Stone, Gronna, or others named in the petitions.

It was decided that the committee has authority to recommend such an investigation without having any expulsion or other formal resolution before it.

Another point decided today by the committee was that should it decide to recommend an inquiry it would have to bring out a resolution to that effect for adoption by the senate before adjournment with prospect of its being the vehicle of tempestuous debate and possibly delay adjournment.

GOVERNMENT WILL EMPLOY GIRLS AS MESSENGERS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 4.—The "messenger girl" has made her appearance on the government's payroll as a result of the shortage of boys and men in the capital for that work. For the first time in the history of the government, so far as anyone here can remember, appointments heretofore strictly confined to men and boys have been opened to girls and the civil service commission has announced the date for its first examination for "messenger girls."

AMERICAN OFFICER IS KILLED.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 4.—Lieutenant G. P. Howe of the Boston medical officers' reserve corps was killed in action Sept. 28, while on duty with British forces in France, the adjutant general yesterday announced. His brother, Thorndike B. Howe of this city, is lieutenant colonel of an American artillery regiment.

CLUB RESOLUTIONS URGE DEPORTATION OF SEN. LAFOLLETTE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Oct. 4.—Deportation of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette and his supporters through the allies lines to Berlin because of the Wisconsin senator's "treasonable utterances," was urged in a resolution received today by Governor James M. Cox from the Executives club of Toledo, representing every association in that city, including Commercial Clubs, the Rotary and the Kiwanis clubs.

Copies of the resolutions were sent to President Wilson also and to Senator Pomerene and Harding from Ohio and to Congressman Sherwood of the Toledo district with the request that they be spread on the minutes of congress.

The resolutions point out that while thousands of splendid young men have answered their country's call and are on their way to the front to take their places in the trenches and shed their blood for freedom of humanity, "a small minority of noisy demagogues and traitors have undertaken to create a fire in the rear and to demoralize the loyal forces fighting to win the war."

The resolution further recite: "That we do condemn the treasonable utterances and actions of Robert M. La Follette and his corps of aiders and abettors who since the declaration of war have, by their acts, speeches and votes, given aid and comfort to the empire of Germany and have cast their lot with the enemies of mankind, and particularly with the enemies of the United States."

"Be it further resolved, that we do hereby suggest to the President of the United States that, in conformity with the precedent by Abraham Lincoln in the matter of Clement L. Vallandigham of Ohio, that Robert M. La Follette and his fellow conspirators, encouraging sedition and breeding treason, be sent through the lines to Berlin."

ENGLAND DECIDES UPON REPRISALS FOR GERMAN RAIDS

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Wednesday, Oct. 3. (Delayed.)—According to the Standard a policy of reprisals for German air raids has been decided upon.

That such a decision had been reached by the British government was indicated by Premier Lloyd George's statement on Tuesday that Germany would be bombed with compound interest.

TRAIN NEXT OHIO OFFICERS' CORPS AT CHILlicothe

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Oct. 4.—According to military advices received here from Washington the next officers' camp to which Ohioans will be assigned will be held at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, instead of at Ft. Benj. Harrison, Indiana. The war department at Washington in giving out details of the plans for the third series of camps, which will begin January 5 next and end April 5, says:

"To these camps, which are primarily for enlisted men, it has been decided to admit a certain number of graduates and under-graduates of universities, colleges and schools which have earned recognition by having had military training under army officers during the past ten years."

The two Ohio educational institutions which are recognized as giving efficient military instruction and which are assigned quotas in the next training camp are the Ohio State University here and the Ohio Northern University at Ada.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Oct. 4.—Field Marshal Haig has begun a new offensive east of Ypres. The official statement from British headquarters in France issued today says that the British attacked at 6 o'clock this morning on a wide front and are making satisfactory progress. A number of prisoners already have been taken.

TROOPS ADVANCE MORE THAN A MILE.

(Associated Press Telegram)
British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press)—Field Marshal Haig's forces in the offensive begun to the east of Ypres this morning in some places have penetrated the German lines to a depth of one mile and have over-run the crest of the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge.

At an early hour the Germans were surrendering by hundreds. The British already have penetrated well beyond the hamlet of Broadseinde in which lie the crossroads formed by the highways between Zonnebeke and Moorslede and Passchendaele and Bekelede.

Further to the south, Cameron Covert, where there had been much hard fighting, was left well in the rear.

Today's battle was along strongholds which comprised the crucially important system of German defenses along the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge.

The northern wing of the on-rushing British troops was battling forward this morning within a short distance of Poelcapelle. It had a footing on the famous Gravenstafel ridge, which juts out from the Passchendaele ridge to the west and had crashed through the Zonnebeke-Broodseinde ridge, which is an integral part of the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt chain.

Between the village of Broodseinde, on the north and Noordhoek, on the south, the British, more than a mile to the south, the British are holding the crest of the ridge in the face of heavy counter-attacks. Prisoners are coming in much more rapidly and in greater numbers than in the last push.

Everywhere the British have done splendidly in one of the most pretentious offensives attempted on this front. The attack was launched under heavy clouds and with a mist following a night drizzle.

An unusual feature of the battle was that near Zonnebeke three German divisions which had been ordered to retake positions captured by the British last week were caught in the British barrage as they were preparing to advance. At 10 o'clock the battle was still raging furiously. It was apparent that the Germans would use every means to retake this invaluable territory and determined counter attacks were expected.

The British casualties today have been exceedingly light.

FIRST AND SECOND OBJECTIVES TAKEN.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Oct. 4.—General Frederick B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, announced this afternoon that the British forces in their offensive this morning to the east of Ypres had captured the village of Broodseinde.

Both the first and second objectives on the ridge have been captured by the British, General Maurice said.

In their offensive in the Ypres sector today the British gained all their objectives on a front of 1800 yards and to a depth of 2500 yards.

HAD EIGHT DAYS REST.
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Oct. 4.—Striking again on a wide front east of Ypres, the British this morning began another drive at the German lines in Flanders. Field Marshal Haig, in his early report, announced that satisfactory progress was being made.

Already a stream of German prisoners is being sent to the British rear.

The renewal of the Flanders drive comes after an eight day interval. On Wednesday of last week the British swept forward over ground on both sides of the Ypres-Menin road advancing from a half mile to a mile at various points along the line.

Some of the heaviest fighting in the war on the western front followed, the Germans making assault after assault in desperate attempts to regain the valuable high ground they had lost. Almost every inch of it however, was held intact by the British who meanwhile were preparing for the next forward push.

With today's renewal of the drive the battle of Flanders is growing more and more to resemble last year's battle of the Somme, which was followed by the memorable Hindenburg strategic retreat. The same general tactics now being pursued of persistent driving at the same point in the line are evidently expected by the British to achieve a similar result. This time, however, the ground which would have to be abandoned would be far more valuable to the entente and its loss a correspondingly heavy blow to the Germans, for the German-held Belgian coast line, with its submarine and aerial bases is at stake, together with the great French manufacturing city of Lille and wide stretches of territory in northern France and Flanders.

Today's attack followed sharply a last despairing effort of the Germans to save it off. Crown Prince Rupprecht struck at the British line yesterday at its most vital points—between Tower Hamlets and Polygon wood, but his troops again were mowed down by the British guns, the assault making on impression whatever on the British line or affecting the British purpose to attack today.

The French fighting front has been comparatively calm, except for intense artillery activity northeast of Verdun. The French air forces have been busy again with reprisal work, visiting the Prussian city of Frankfurt once more and also bombing Rastatt, a city of 14,000 population in Baden.

MYSTERIOUS WAR MACHINE WILL BE TESTED BY CONGRESS

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Oct. 4.—The house bill providing for tests of a mysterious machine for utilizing free energy devised by Garabed T. K. Giragossian, inventor from Boston, went to the senate today and congressmen enthusiastically over the war possibility of the machine, planned a drive for immediate action.

Giragossian so impressed five members of the house patents committee at a secret demonstration before a board of five scientists and the secretary of the interior, as a preliminary to the government buying the rights to use the device.

GOVERNMENT FAILS TO GRANT REFORMS PROMISED

(Associated Press Telegram)
Copenhagen, Oct. 4.—German newspapers report that the project for granting additional representation to overgrown reichstag districts and for introducing the principle of proportional representation in the large cities is on the rocks. The government, while lately rejecting all other proposals of the reichstag, has now refused to grant the reforms of the imperial constitution, had promised to introduce a bill embodying this minor reform, but several federal states now object so vigorously to the bill, which should have been introduced at this session of the reichstag, that its fate is doubtful.

Spend 25 cents! Dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Hair gets beautiful, wavy and thick in few moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail loose and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, straggly or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff, no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?—Advertisement.

Both Hellin and Dibsall were with the group of student aviators who visited Newark during the fair.

Hellin started Tuesday morning from the Celina field and landed at the fair grounds aviation ground at 2:30 in the afternoon.

He won a warm place in the hearts of all Licking county people who met him for his unassuming manner. Although one of the most daring aviators, he was modest about his work.

Today's contingent was the third leaving from this city, 5 per cent going Sept. 6, 40 per cent on Sept. 20, and today's 40 per cent leaves 15 per cent to be sent at a later date.

The boys were given a special demonstration previous to their departure this afternoon similar to the one of two weeks ago. These springers were furnished by the Hanover, Madison, Newark and Centennial granges. Mrs. Hainsworth furnished cheese and pickles for the soldiers' lunch boxes.

SHAUGHNESSY IS ABLE TO GO WITH THE THIRD QUOTA

One drafted man, Stanley B. Woodruff, failed to appear and answer to his name after all had entered the train for Camp Sherman at the B. & O. station this afternoon. Lowell H. Woodruff, an employee of crisis times undertaking parlors, was sent in his place. Woodruff will be looked up by members of the draft board at once.

Last evening at retreat roll call four of the men failed to answer but it developed today that three of them were engaged at their vocation, working until the last minute previous to their departure for camp.

Lee Shaughnessy, who fell over the banister at the court house yesterday afternoon was so much improved today that he joined the soldier boys and left with them. Samuel Chester, who accidentally shot himself through one of his toes will not be able to leave for a week or ten days. He is confined to bed and will not be able to leave his room for a week.

SUFFRAGE PETITIONS NOW UP TO OHIO SUPREME COURT

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, Oct. 4.—For nearly two hours today the supreme court heard vigorous arguments both for and against the referendum invoked against the Reynolds act to give women the right to vote for President. The court then took the case under advisement.

The controversy is before the court on the question of a mandamus, brought by the suffragists to compel Secretary of State Fulton to give them a hearing so that they may present evidence in support of their charge that the referendum petitions are permeated with fraud.

The suit also attacks the constitutionality of the act taking away from the secretary of state the right to grant such a hearing and lodging it with county election boards.

DETECTIVES LOCATE SCALPERS; SUPPLY OF TICKETS SHORT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Chicago, Oct. 4.—Most of the seventeen thousand reserved seats for the world's series games at White Sox park were distributed today.

Those who had been awarded tickets were notified two days ago to apply today and get their admission cards. The white cards bearing the notice, were numbered, and this number corresponds with the number on each ticket. A record of each ticket sold has been kept, and with this the club officials hope to stamp out ticket scalping.

Scalpers, who up to today have been advertising that they would have plenty of tickets, appeared to have lost some of their confidence and refused to guarantee tickets for any of the games here. They still contend, however, that they will have "some" tickets but admit that the supply will not equal the demand.

That detectives have been investigating applicants for tickets became known today when it was announced that 119 persons who had been notified to call for their tickets had been cancelled since the notice was sent out, and that it would be impossible for them to see the games in a reserved seat.

It was said some of these persons, either as agents of the scalpers or expecting to sell their tickets to the scalpers had exhibited the notification cards and said that they "had slipped one over on the wise baseball officials."

The White Sox, after a day of idleness yesterday on account of rain, are booked for two days of stiff practice. Manager Rowland said that he would not send the team to Weeham Park to see the Chicago and New York Nationals play today as he considered practice more essential than any lines they might get on their opponents from seeing them play.

Eddie Collins, Eddie Cicotte and Kid Gleason, who saw the Giants play Tuesday in Philadelphia, gave the White Sox the benefit of their observations yesterday in a long talk.

Many thousands of applications for reserved seats have necessarily been refused as the capacity of the park is 32,000 composed of 17,000 reserved and approximately 15,000 non-reserved seats.

President C. A. Comiskey of the White Sox, expressed regret that so many persons would be disappointed. "I never knew it was possible to lose so many friends in so short a time," said Comiskey. "Letters of protest are coming into our office in stacks. Some are from old friends, and still I have not found a way to handle a crowd of 200,000 in a park built to take care of 32,000."

Harry Grabner, secretary of the White Sox who has been in charge of the seat sale, said that he had lost ten pounds in weight during the last week, which he attributed both to overwork and abuse he has received at the hands of the disappointed baseball fans.

The New York Nationals are due here early this afternoon from the east and according to the program they are to go direct from the station to Weeham park for a practice game with the Chicago Nationals. Hundreds of fans, who were among the fortunate ones to obtain reserved seats, gathered at White Sox park early this morning for their tickets. By noon four lines, several hundred deep were before the windows. There was no evidence of the presence of scalpers.

SCHOOLS CLOSED WHEN COAL FAILS; RELIEF IS IN SIGHT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Oct. 4.—While the coal situation in a number of Ohio cities is becoming alarming according to appeals reaching Governor Cox's office, the resignation of Harri L. Conn as fuel administrator of Ohio will not delay the coal program planned, it was said at the governor's office.

Mr. Conn informed Governor Cox that he could not accept the position as fuel administrator, a non-salaried position, on learning from federal administrator Garfield at Washington that the position would require all his time. Mr. Conn, whose home is at Van Wert, is a lawyer without a partner.

Governor Cox has recommended to administrator Garfield another to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Conn's resignation. Administrator Garfield is expected to announce the appointment without delay.

Schools at Williamsport, says an appeal from there to the governor's office were closed yesterday when the coal supply gave out. The appeal was given immediate attention and a carload was on its way there this morning.

In Akron, according to Mayor W. J. Laub, fifty carloads of coal are needed at once for immediate relief. "Dealers are being implored by householders for enough coal to prevent suffering in their families as a result of cold weather," his appeal says.

PERSHING STRONG FOR RIFLE FIRE IN ATTACKING TRENCH

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
American Training Quarters in France, Wednesday, Oct. 3.—Major General Pershing today watched a battalion of Major General Sibert's command as it stormed and took three supposed enemy trenches which had been named Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt for the occasion.

The exercise was part of a program of battalion problems which is being carried out daily and will be developed gradually into regimental, brigade and divisional attacks.

In addition to General Pershing several French officers witnessed today's maneuvers after which they were criticized by American and French observers and by the general himself. He said that in taking three trenches the soldiers, he noticed, did not use their rifles. This he thought was a mistake.

"You must not forget that the rifle is distinctly an American weapon," said the general. "I want to see it employed. There surely will be plenty of opportunity for its use if you are unfamiliar with the weapon you will lose those opportunities. Bayonets and bombs are all right and very valuable but rifle fire still has a place in modern war."

The general said he had heard of soldiers in this war who had been chasing Germans a hundred yards or more for an opportunity to bomb or bayonet them. If they had thought they might have stopped and shot them easily with the rifle. Some time ago the American army authorities decided to devote much attention to musketry but neither the French nor British instructors are inclined to spend much time on that phase of warfare, having become accustomed to the tactics of attacking solely with bombs, bayonets and machine guns. American soldiers always have been fine marksmen however and the officers still believe in rifle fire for both offensive and defensive purposes.

The practice attacks today were made under theoretical creeping barrages, timed to move forward at a given pace. The men used live bombs as they advanced. The Wilson trench proved very easy, only six casualties being cleared from the field during its occupation. A green rocket announced success and then the attackers rushed forward against the Taft trench. Here again success was achieved quickly being signalled by a red rocket. It required a second wave of attackers, who "leapfrogged" over the troops holding the Taft trench to take the Roosevelt trench and its redoubts flanking its final objective. A three starred rocket announced the fact that the Roosevelt trench had fallen and that the position had been consolidated with machine guns in strategic position for a flanking fire to beat off counter-attacks.

The operation required just an hour.

SIMON-PURE PATRIOTISM.

Don't go around patting yourself on the back and deceiving yourself with the idea that you were patriotic in taking $50 or $100 Liberty bond cash and buying a Liberty bond. For there was no sacrifice in that, and the real essence of patriotism is found in sacrifice.

United States history records a number of wars in which we have fought, always for the right. But nowhere in history's pages is place given to the man who contributed financially to his country's welfare only to the point where it did not pinch his pocketbook.

Robert Morris, of the Revolutionary period, stands out conspicuously among the financiers of America history who came free-handed to the country's financial rescue.

And we went broke. Eventually he died in want.

Morris' patriotism plumbed the utmost depths of sacrifices. There was nothing shoddy about it. It was the real thing.

According to the census reports 6,516,446 wage-earners engaged in manufacturing in 1909, earned an average wage of $519. Today 70 per cent of the families of the United States receive an income of less than $1000 a year.

It is from this great army of wage-earners that the real patriots will emerge in this Liberty-bond smash. For every purchase by them of a $50 or a $100-bond will represent a real sacrifice.

Putting your spare money into a Liberty-bond is not patriotism. It is good business judgement, in that it staves off the day of excessive taxation. It is insurance, in that it provides a permanent and earning investment for your family.

But if you aspire to patriotism make your subscription larger than you really can afford. Make it a struggle to meet it. Entail by it some real sacrifice and you will have turned the trick.

THE SPEEDERS.

Some automobile men from another town got to talking in one of the garages the other night, and it was interesting to get their point of view. They talked more freely than they would have done in the presence of a newspaper man from their own town.

They were exchanging notes about the various drivers of their home-community, and some who had a special reputation for speeding. One man, according to them, was the terror of the neighborhood. He seemed to be utterly upset when a car came along that he could not pass. He would be sore for days. He was never content until he got in front of anything in sight.

He would work some queer stunts to get by. If there was a line of cars ahead of him, he would never stop to consider whether he could get by more than one. As soon as there seemed to be half enough room on a narrow road, along he would go. If he couldn't pass the second car, he would nose his way in between that car and the one he had just passed. Most drivers usually would give up their right-of-way to save an accident. But within recent weeks the man had partly come to grief. While passing another car at 40 miles an hour he had collided with a tree. Though the machine was wrecked, yet by a miracle he had escaped.

A man can work that kind of thing about so long. Then he runs up against some driver who will stick by his rights even if a collision does result at high speed. It seems strange that there are in most places drivers who have reputation about like this, which is commonly a matter of garage gossip, yet no one will complain. The many people who know about it realize that the man is a menace. Yet they dislike to make trouble and are not do anything as long as they are not personally injured. It will be the possible to stop speeding on the highways until the automobile-using public shows disposition to complain of people known to be speeders.

Ted Robinson, the Cleveland Plain Dealer's well-balanced and keen-witted "Philosopher of Folly," on bended knee apologized for having credited one of The Advocate's jingles to the Newark American Tribune. Mr. Ted, we accept your apology and extend to you the compliments of the season.

WHERE IS THE GERMAN FLEET?

(Scientific American.)
The complete immobility of the German fleet becomes the more amazing when we contemplate the stupendous results which would follow another German victory (for the sake of argument the writer is regarding the Jutland battle as a German victory), for in this second attempt, after completing the disruption of the British grand fleet, the German commander-in-chief would be in a position to lead his victorious squadrons to the English channel, cut through and break up to vast system of ferriage between England and France; immobilize that part of the British Islands; and absolutely stop the flow of supplies to the army in France.

Thus, at a single stroke, would her navy neutralize the whole military and economic effort of the British Empire; for, with the main artery cut in twain, the British troops in France would quickly and literally bleed to death. Nor would the fruits of lawless German victory upon the high seas stop here; for, moving out into the Atlantic, she would be able in 24 hours to bring about, lawfully, that immobilization of the United States, which her submarines have been unlawfully and hopelessly attempting to achieve during the past six months.

Here is a prize of war, the like of which never presented itself in all the long history of naval warfare. What Germany's hard fighting armies have failed utterly to accomplish in three years of effort, her fleet, swinging idly so long at its moorings in Kiel harbor, could have accomplished in any 24 hour day during the 15 months that it has chosen to remain in its present condition of inglorious obscurity. * * *

The portals of the highways of the seas would be flung wide, and the German ships would once more be free to fetch and carry to and from all the corners of the earth. Overwhelming victory for her armies; food for her people; trade and commerce for her idle markets and her ships now rusting in silent harbors. Surely, these are worth the effort of another "brilliant victory."

Again we ask, why this silence on the part of a victorious fleet, when one more such decisive sortie (a "steel hard" blow from the "mailed fist") would win everything in the way of world domination of which the wildest military enthusiast at Berlin ever dreamed.

SEASONS FOR FIGHTING.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
In Europe the fighting season of 1917 approaches its end. After November's rains set in the armies consider that their year's work is done. There has been comparatively little fighting in the winter. The Serbian campaigns, the beginning of Grand Duke Nicholas' drive in the Caucasus, the opening of the German offensive against Verdun, are exceptions. All the other heavy fighting has been done in warm weather.

When it is warm in Europe it is broiling hot in Mesopotamia. All summer the British army has been lying inactive in the land between the rivers, enduring a temperature far above 100 degrees and finding little shade. There is much sand and there are few palms. Somewhere in this blazing wilderness Gen. Maude's army has lain through three terrible months of Mesopotamian summer, invisible and almost forgotten.

Now England is astonished by the news of a sweeping victory won by this body of Britons. A Turkish army is annihilated, its general taken prisoner, its positions seized by the victors. The revolving year, bringing a prospect of involuntary truce in Europe, has opened the fighting season in Mesopotamia.

Though the war area has been greatly lessened since the beginning of the conflict it is still so large that the fighting season is never closed. In the southern hemisphere the Germans are still holding out in East Africa. Elsewhere in Africa and also in the Far East the war is ended. Slowly but steadily the fighting lines are drawing nearer to German frontiers. Mesopotamia remains an outpost of the conflict, a theatre in which the Ottoman, left to his own resources, must pay the penalty of misplaced confidence.

RECREATION.

(Ohio State Journal.)
The Methodist conference set its foot on the mad desire for recreation these days. One would think from what he sees in the papers that the noblest aim of man is to recreate. That may be all right, until it comes to crowding out higher aims. There is no better recreation than studying and woods, and finding God's meaning in the flowers, the brooks, the birds, the woods, and all the beautiful forms of nature. And here is a fact forgotten, that recreation solely for recreation is a poor help. In true recreation there must be an exercise of the soul as well as of the body. The spirit must be employed to strengthen the bone or muscle, or they will not be strengthened. As in all education, the material must not crowd out the spiritual. They must be kept in harmony or both lose out. Yes, there is a mad desire for recreation, as the Methodists say, and it ought to be suppressed. A true life has all the recreation it needs.

AN AMERICAN GOVERNOR.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Only two states elect governors this fall. Thus far has progressed the movement toward uniformity by which states choose governors and legislatures in the even years. The two are Massachusetts, which clings to its annual election against the judgment of the whole country, and Virginia, the term of whose governor is four times as long as that of the Bay state executive.

The Massachusetts primaries have just been held. Governor McCall has been renominated by the Republicans for a third term, and against him the Democrats have named the man who made the unsuccessful fight on McCall one year ago.

Mr. McCall is certain to receive much support not based on partisan preference. He appears to meet the conditions laid down by the mayor of New York, that a candidate this year must show himself to be thoroughly American to merit support at the polls. At no time since the United States entered the war has there been any doubt as to where Massachusetts stood, so far as its standing could be controlled by the governor's office.

Virginia, of course, chooses its next governor in the Democratic primary. Thus the only real gubernatorial election in the United States this fall will be that in Massachusetts.

JAPAN'S PROTECTORATE OVER CHINA.

(Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.)
Viscount Ishii objects to editorial characterization of Japan's attitude toward China, "voluntarily enunciated and pledged by me," as a Monroe Doctrine in Asia. In elucidation the chief of the Japanese High Commission to the United States says: "There is this fundamental difference between the Monroe doctrine of the United States as to Central and South America and the enunciation of Japan's attitude toward China. In the first there is on the part of the United States no engagement or promise, while in the other, Japan voluntarily announces that Japan will herself engage not to violate the political or territorial integrity of her neighbor."

The differentiation is not of consequence, but confirmation by the Japanese government of the Ishii pledge would be decidedly important, in view of common interpretations of recent Japanese activities in China. There never has been need for any engagement and pledge on the part of the United States that it would not violate the political or territorial integrity of its neighbors. The Monroe Doctrine has been maintained for their well-being as well as for our own, with understanding solidly grounded in this country that we would forfeit our character as protector were we to employ our power to despoil or exploit the Central or South American countries. On the other hand, suspicions of Japan's purposes in China have been founded on actions which the distant server could not regard as other than aggressive and selfish. Therefore satisfaction will be general with the declaration of intent made by the High Commissioner, insofar as it can be accepted as official and binding on his country.

One feature of Viscount Ishii's statement is rather jarring in the ears of Americans who hope the end of the war will establish relations of comity between the nations which will abolish resort to force. That is his assertion of Japan's intent to hold itself prepared to protect China against aggressions from without. Is Japan in doubt of the success of the Allied arms? Is it suspicious of the honorable intentions of the countries with which it is in alliance to demolish the ambitions of Germany to dominate the world by military power? With the open door in China established there should be enough unity among the brother nations to preclude the possibility that one would have to menace another to prevent violations of the rights of all.

An Impertinent Question.
Charlie Chaplin is to get a million dollars for appearing in eight reel comedies. Wonder what he would get for appearing in one real comedy.—Rochester Post Express.

Facts Worth Remembering.
Our wealth and the contributions of food to our Allies and the withholding of the same from Germany are the great psychological encouragement to our ultimate arrival supplies are no doubt of vast benefit. But every once in a while we need to be reminded, by Roosevelt or somebody else who is not under too great restraint to speak out what is in his mind, of the fact of our helplessness behind the shelter of England and France, so that we may never be caught in the same desperate strait again.—Waterbury American.

In Jonkerdonk's Wake.
The Berliner Tagblatt of Berlin, summing up the cost of the war to date, says the war loans aggregate $87,000,000,000, that 7,000,000 men have been killed, that the lost in dead and wounded amounts to 14,000,000 men and that 5,000,000 have been crippled for life. The appalling record of entries may properly be charged up to Kaiser Wilhelm and the junkerhood of Prussia. Eighty-seven billion dollars would pay for 263 Panama canals.

A funeral cortege for the 7,000,000 dead, if composed of horses each given 40 feet of linear space, would reach around the earth twice and lap over for a distance equal to that from New York to San Francisco. If the 5,000,000 cripples could hobble down Nicollet avenue on crutches 2,500 an hour every day from sunrise to sunset, the last battered line would pass a given point some time after the first of next March. What monstrous diabolism these men have to answer for at the bar of humanity and at the Judgment Seat of Heaven!—Minneapolis Tribune.

Now Liberty Loan.

In the course of his Chicago speech Colonel Roosevelt gave a bit of good advice about the second issue of Liberty bonds. Denouncing the demagogues who say that this is a rich man's war in which the country is engaged, he said: "These same creatures who tell you it is a rich man's war will in 10 years be screeching against the bondholders, who stand opposed to the people." Yes, and the people who will lend a willing ear to the attacks of demagogues on the bondholders 10 years from hence can right now protect themselves from the power of the bondholders; on their own initiative they can themselves become bondholders. The Liberty Loan is open to us all. The government is earnestly imploring the middle classes and the poorer classes to buy the bonds. It hopes to distribute them widely throughout the population and is doing everything possible to attract buyers outside the wealthy. The man or woman who does not purchase Liberty bonds this year will have no valid cause for complaining hereafter that the bonds are held by the rich, who are opposed to the people. He or she can prevent that outcome.—Detroit Free Press.

Sample of Terroism.

While they are eliminating various German textbooks from the curricula of schools all over the country we hope they will not overlook a pestiferous volume with which we were initiated into the terrifying joys of the German language some years ago. If we could remember its name we would suggest it to some of the crusaders ourselves. It was a mean, malicious book that revealed in the subjunctive mood and the inverted order, and took a sneaking delight in leading an unsuspecting beginner through a stretch of easy going into an ambush, a barbed wire entanglement, of "haben behaft seaworden gewesen sein." Even at that early date we began to have a hint of German frightfulness.—Spokane Spokesman Review.

Promise Not Kept.

The beet-sugar men of America have not made good their claim of some years ago that they would soon be in a position to supply the entire demand for sugar in this country, although the product is constantly increasing. The total supply of sugar the past year amounted to 9,739,980,746 pounds, of which only 2,267,351,840 pounds came from our own cane and beet fields or about 23 per cent. Our sugar-makers are making progress, but they are far from the goal—that of supplying our home market.—Los Angeles Times.

THEY SHOT DESERTERS IN 1812 IS THE ONLY COMMENT AT CAMP

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Oct. 4.—All that has been said about punishment of deserters was reiterated from Major General Glenn's headquarters and a "punch" added from the strictly military source today. The statement was brief enough and said simply that men who have been drafted and who do not show up at Camp Sherman will be classed as deserters. The usual reward of $50 will be offered for them and when they are found punishment prescribed for desertion will be meted out.

There is some significance to the remark that "four deserters were shot on the site of this very camp in 1812, when there was a military post here."

Officers do not expect such serious steps as that to be taken but they let it be known in certain terms that the deserter, the man who failed to report to his local board, and the one who fails to come to Camp Sherman, is going to get punishment that should come to a deserter in time of war. Military folks have a strictly military view regarding a deserter that the average civilian does not appreciate. They talk about deserters and rattlesnakes in about the same tone around Camp Sherman these days.

Selective draft men from Ohio who have reported and done all that has been asked of them continued to come today. Cincinnati men claimed the record for number reporting—nearly a thousand in all. Mahoning and Butler counties ranked next.

Cleveland selects who came in yesterday were no more than settled under the head of sixty-seven of their fellow-townsmen and men from the Cleveland neighborhood being sent home. They were discharged as physically unfit. There were 83 discharges ordered in the last big batch from Major General Glenn's headquarters and 67 were from Cuyahoga and adjoining counties, all members of the 331st infantry regiment.

The selectives who arrived yesterday were getting settled today and a large number of them were vaccinated and given their first inoculation of anti-typhoid serum. They will be drilling and learning the art of soldiering within 48 hours after reaching camp.

New reports are circulated again today of possible moving away of the Third regiment, Ohio National Guard, but there was no official confirmation of any such order. The third is the police and guard force and many reports have been heard in the last two weeks that the regiment soon will leave here, probably for Montgomery, Ala., where other Ohio guardsmen are in training.

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Edgar T. Albright of The Advocate composing room, who volunteered for service in the light artillery several months ago and who is now a member of Battery C, 134th F. A., Fort Benj. Harrison, Ind., in a letter sent to his former office associates says in part:

I suppose you think me neglectful and maybe you think correctly but there are many things that tend to make me so. We are busy all day and there is school five nights a week so that doesn't leave much time for recreation and correspondence. * * * We went out one night at 6 and returned at 10. We had to unharness and then harness again in the dark without showing a light or without talking above a whisper. Tuesday night we were called at 11:30 and made a camp near a bunch of Hope soldiers. Early Wednesday morning we opened fire with blanks on them and of course they were all blown to pieces before they brought out their little rifles against us.

It has been cold the last two nights but I wrapped up in three blankets, a shelter half and a slicker and kept comfortable. * * * We had a good dinner today consisting of mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, roast beef, gravy, celery, fruit salad, bread and hot tea. For breakfast we had hot cakes, rolled oats with milk and coffee. I ate six cakes so you may know they were unusually good. There is a crowd of people out here today to see the trenches the "Hopes" have made. They are splendid—I mean the trenches. * * * Ours is no longer the "First Ohio" but the "134th F. A." Headquarters detachment has left, taking with them the regimental band. Wish they could have left the band as it puts life into the boys. * * * They are issuing overcoats to the men on guard tonight. * * * Things get monotonous sometimes. If we were not kept busy it would sometimes be lonesome. I would like to see some of the bunch drift around here before we go south.

 Chicago, Oct. 4.—Weakness developed in corn prices today, largely as a result of unsettled conditions in the south market and reports of reference to tightness of money. Opening quotations, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1/2c lower, at 1.17 1/2 to 1.12 1/2 for December and 1.14 1/2 to 1.10 1/2 for May, were followed by a moderate rally, but then a downward all around.
 Some duplicated the changes in corn. Near pressure on last tended to weaken it, entire provision list firm. Firmness in the hog market was virtually ignored.

CAMP SHERMAN NOTES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chillicothe, O., Oct. 4.—Chillicothe merchants are up against a tough problem. They have more business than they can do. They have more calls for soldier togs and articles than they can buy. They lack, in many instances, sufficient room to do the business that the Camp Sherman "war baby" has dropped into their midst.

Getting clothing for soldiers is the biggest problem right now. There are hundreds of selective draft men in camp who have big incomes and who can get money "from home" in almost limitless quantities. They have been used to good clothes and plenty of them.

With cold weather coming on, hundreds of these men are buying clothing additional to that issued by the government. They buy fine army hats, fine army shoes for dress wear, fine woollens and flannel "olive drab" shirts, their own "Rally" coats with the fleece lining and fleece collar; they buy raincoats they take a fancy to and overcoats different from the issue kind. They get their own leggings, their own heavy woollen socks, their own heavy blankets and numerous other things to make quarters in the barracks at the National Army camp comfy and more like home.

The demand by the enlisted men in addition to that of the officers, is being supplied largely through Chillicothe, stores and these have turned from quiet, easy-going little shops to bustling houses each with from a half a dozen clerks—as many as there is room for.

Since the coming to Camp Sherman of the "forty per cent" men, when the camp population was increased to 25,000, the Chillicothe dealers cannot get goods shipped in fast enough. Car load after car load is consumed almost as soon as unpacked. And always there are scores waiting.

There usually is very little said about officers that would make them feel badly, but the regular army noncommissioned officers, who, by the bye, are not enthusiastic about these young fellows who were schooled at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, tell some good stories on them, now and then. These regular army men are not enthusiastic about the new national army anyway, so, perhaps, that is some ground for the tales they relate since coming here to aid as instructors.

Some of the reserve officers have had little military training and this is one that was told of a medical corps lieutenant who had just reached camp.

He was walking along toward a group of the regular army noncoms, who stood at attention on his approach. As the officer drew near, they came to the salute in the snappy regular army "one-two."

The lieutenant, so the story goes, hesitated but did not return the courtesy. He halted and smiled. The soldiers still stood at attention. Smiling broadly, the lieutenant took off his hat with a sweep of the arm, bowed low, and said:

"Gentlemen, I thank you, I thank you!"

Soldiers at this military reservation are beginning to wonder a bit if there was not "method in the madness" when the authorities made a rule forbidding bus service inside of Camp Sherman. Only taxicabs, charging 25 cents for a ride to Chillicothe, are permitted inside the post and a soldier at $30 a month cannot afford many such luxuries unless he is "endowed," as the troopers term it.

So they are beginning to believe that when the order was made, there was back of it a desire on the part of the officers higher up that the men remain in camp instead of making trips to Chillicothe.

There is amusement aplenty inside the camp, even though it is not yet up to standard. By doing away with the jitney busses, it means either walk to town, pay 25 cents for a ride, or else stay at home. So a great majority stay at home. Instead of loafing about Chillicothe streets, the men put in their time by writing letters, reading books, hearing talks and lectures, studying drill manuals or sleeping. Spare time is availing something.

So, whether there was another motive other than that of "preventing congestion and accidents" in barring the jitney bus from the military roads inside the camp, most of the civilian-troopers are getting benefits from staying at home that they would not get if they spent their spare time in town.

The wonderful thing of the whole camp, however, is the wholesome respect the enlisted men have for their officers. It is a very common expression of the privates that we have "swell fellows for officers" or "our captain is a prince."

MUSIC ATTRACTS

There is something about music, especially piano music, that soothes, and attracts us one to another. That is one reason why you should have a piano or player piano in your home. Have you ever noticed how the home that has a player piano attracts the young people to that home? If you want to keep your young folks at home make it attractive by purchasing a Jesse French Sons player piano, because it will more than pay for itself in keeping the young folks home. They'll enjoy it as well as you. P. J. Fairall, 2 North Fourth street.

IRON IS GREATEST OF ALL STRENGTH BUILDERS, SAYS DOCTOR

A Secret of the Great Endurance and Power of Athletes

Ordinary Nuxated Iron Will Make Deplete, Nervous, Run-down People 100 Per Cent Stronger in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Most people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret nostrum or narcotic drug, said Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston Physician who has studied widely both in this country and Great European Medical institutions when, as a matter of fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong but they can't tell what, so they generally commence doctoring for stomach, liver and kidney trouble or symptoms of some other ailment caused by lack of iron in the blood. This thing may go on for years, while the patient suffers untold agony. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test. See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while, double their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron simply to save a few cents. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated like nuxated iron if you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize-fighter has won the day simply because they knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray, while many another has gone down to inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NOTE—Nuxated iron recommended above by Dr. E. Sauer, is one of the newer organic iron compounds. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach, on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy, in nearly all forms of indigestion, as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The Manufacturers have such great confidence in Nuxated iron that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent or over in four weeks' time provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not, at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by Wm. A. Erman, Evans' Cut-Rate drug store and all other druggists.

ELECTION CLUBS GET INCREASE IN WAGES THIS YEAR

Newark will have two registration days only—Friday and Saturday, October 19-20. Consequently it behooves all voters who may have moved from one precinct into another since last election day to register. All voters becoming of age since last election must also register if they desire to cast a ballot this fall.

All of the registration booths over the city will be open from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m., and from 4 to 9 p. m. Scores registered before the late primary election, but there are still many voters not registered, but they must do so in order to be eligible to vote in November.

All clerks and judges in Newark will receive $8 per day this year, which is an increase of $3 over previous years. Judges and clerks in county precincts will receive $5 per day—an increase of $2 per day.

Don't wait for time to heal your skin—

"Oh it will get well anyhow!" you say? Perhaps it will, and perhaps it won't. Maybe it will get worse instead. And think of the discomfort and embarrassment it causes you even now.

Isn't it better to get rid of the trouble by using Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap? Doctors have prescribed the Resinol treatment for over 20 years, so you need not hesitate to use it. Resinol usually stops itching instantly. All doctors sell Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. Use Resinol Soap for your hair, too.

Simple Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. (Advertisement)

PASSING OF SUMMER'S BLAZING HEAT MARKS RENEWAL OF BRITISH DRIVE AGAINST TURKS IN MESOPOTAMIA

Arrows mark scene of new British offensive in Mesopotamia.

When it is warm in Europe it is broiling hot in Mesopotamia. All summer a British army has been lying inactive, enduring a temperature far above 100 degrees and finding little shade. Now that the blazing heat of a Mesopotamian summer is over, General Maude has begun a new offensive. He reported recently a sweeping victory at Ramadie, on the Euphrates river. A Turkish army was destroyed, its general and about 1,000 men taken prisoners and its positions seized by the victors. The Turk forces in Mesopotamia are said to be demoralized.

LOOKING BACKWARD 60 YEARS

An Interesting Bit of History Everybody Should Know

One of the interesting places in Lowell, Mass., is the old apothecary shop on Merrimack street, established in 1827. This location is still a drug store, although of course modernized in many departments. The old prescription books, however, have been preserved and form an interesting record covering nearly a century.

Perhaps one of the most interesting books is that of the year 1855. On one of the pages of this book, that dated June 9th, 1855, is written the original prescription for Father John's Medicine.

This prescription was compounded for the Reverend Father John O'Brien at the old drug store on that date, and was so successful in treating Father John's ailment, which was a severe cold and throat trouble, that he recommended the medicine to his friends and parishioners. In going to the drug store and calling for the medicine, they always asked for Father John's Medicine, and in this way the medicine got its name and was advertised.

Father John's Medicine is a safe family remedy for colds, coughs, throat troubles, and as a tonic and body builder, because it does not contain opium, morphine, chloroform, and any other poisonous drugs, or alcohol, but is all pure, wholesome nourishing.

Tonight.
"The Guardian" is the well named story of a man who falls in love with his maid and who, because of his efforts to save the girl from an unhappy marriage, gains her ill-will for a time. Eventually, however, she sees him in his true light and he gains her love. "The Guardian" is a new World Picture Brady-Made land it will be shown tonight at the Alhambra theatre. Three stars appear in this production—June Elvidge, Montague Love and Arthur Ashley.

Friday and Saturday.
Emmy Wehlen's pictures have always been noted for the excellence of the casts by which they are portrayed and "Miss Robinson Crusoe," her latest Metro wonderplay, will find this reputation amply supported by what is really an all star cast. Walter C. Miller, her leading man, came directly to "Miss Robinson Crusoe" from the great Metro wonderplay "The Slacker," where he scored the success of his remarkable career. Augustus, well known to Metro patrons by his work in Viola Dana's company, and Daniel Jarrett, recently seen as the father in the Metro patriotic spectacle, "The Slacker," are seen as the two foreigners.

GRAND.
Florence LaBadie.
In "War and the Woman," the big feature starring Florence LaBadie at the Grand theatre Friday and Saturday, a particularly noteworthy piece of acting is done by Ernest C. Ward, the director, who takes the part of "Denny".

A kindly and wealthy American finds him apparently starving on the road, revives him and gives him employment, although the man comes to whom the unfortunate is assigned, declares that "Denny" is a bit weak in the head. But when an invading army appears it develops that Denny is really one Lieut. Fredericks, who has posed as a simpleton so he could more easily gain information for his Fatherland.

AUDITORIUM.
George Beban.
During the early part of his stage career, Mr. Beban devoted himself entirely to comedy and his entrance into the more serious form of dramatic art came about through one of the little circumstances that so often change a man's whole life.

He had heard a recitation in verse of a little Italian child called "Rosa". The simple little story appealed so to Mr. Beban that one night at a large beefsteak dinner in Chicago, he found himself telling it in dialect. It was his first bit of serious acting, and the hit it made caused him to include it in his repertoire. Later he wrote a sketch around the idea and called it "The Sign of the Rose." It was an instantaneous hit, was the motion picture, "An Alien," which he wrote from the same theme and which became one of the market successes of the screen. Beban, who has been with the Auditorium today and tomorrow, this one of his photoplays, "Lost in Transit," contains a cast of even more than ordinary interest, including Helen Eddy, who usually plays opposite Mr. Beban. It may interest some to know that Kathryn Williams, well known as a screen star, wrote this play for Mr. Beban.

World's Series Results.
The Auditorium theatre will give Newark baseball fans a chance to imagine themselves at Chicago Sunday, at which time the White Sox-New York Giants are battling for honors, as each move will be recorded by the special wire that is run into the theatre for this special occasion. "Scottie," well known for baseball announcing in detail the plays as soon as received Mgr. Fenberg has gone to great expense in getting the International leased wire into his playhouse—the operator, Mr. T. J. Everett, will be seen in full view of the audience and with Scottie, famous for his baseball activities, you sure will think you are seated at Comiskey park, Chicago, watching the second game of what is said to be the greatest fight in baseball history.

The seats are to be reserved, the sale going on today. You can order your seat and it will be saved until you get there. The game in Chicago starts at 2 p. m. This is a feature that none should miss.

NOTICE! To Gas Consumers

The escrow fund is now ready for distribution. It was first planned to mail the checks and a small per cent of them have been placed in envelopes and addressed and will be mailed Saturday, October 6th.

However, it was found to be not only too expensive to mail them but impossible to do so accurately because of the fact that the time covered by the litigation, that is the period in which the over-charge was made by the gas company was from May, 1911 to April, 1916 and since that time hundreds of people have moved, some have died, some have changed their name by marriage, some were burning gas and paying the gas bills in the name of some other person who was a former renter of the house in which they lived, etc., some have moved as many as seven times and had that number of accounts, some were divorced and claim a part of the money by a decree of the court, some tenants were burning gas in the name of their landlord and the tenants claim the money to be refunded although it is in the name of the landlord, hundreds have been attached in proceedings in the justice of the peace courts and other circumstances too numerous to mention.

Because of the above facts it has been found absolutely necessary to have them called for and a room has been secured situated in the Arcade and being No. 16, the northeast corner room at the intersection of the Arcade Annex and being next to the room now occupied by the Western Union Telegraph Co., and the checks will be distributed from that place.

There are approximately 16,000 checks to distribute and it will be absolutely impossible to distribute them all at one time or in one day and there is no way of telling who will call first so that they might be arranged in that order but each person's record will have to be looked up when he calls and his check or checks located.

The checks will be distributed by wards, as follows from 8:30 a. m. to 12 and from 1 p. m. to 4.

First Ward—Monday, October 8th and Tuesday, October 9th.
Second Ward—Wednesday, October 10th and Thursday, October 11th.
Third Ward—Friday, October 12th and Saturday, October 13th.
Fourth Ward—Monday, October 15th and Tuesday, October 16th.
Fifth Ward—Wednesday, October 17th and Thursday, October 18th.
Sixth Ward—Friday, October 19th and Saturday, October 20th.

Find out what ward you live in and call for your check on the days indicated above and on no other day.

Be prepared to tell at once the street and number in which you lived between May 1st, 1911 and September 1st, 1915.

Do not send your neighbor or small children.
If for some reason you can not call for your check on the days named above it will of course be held for you and you can obtain same any time after October 20th, the last day named above.

The receiver has been ordered by the court to pay only to the persons in whose name the account appears unless a written assignment has been previously filed with him, duly authenticated.

Keep this notice for your reference so that you may know when and where to call for your money.

THE WHITE SOX INFIELD

Experts are wondering just how Rowland will arrange his inner cordon, and McMullen at third, as this makes a stronger batting combination than is no doubt as both are veterans. Collins leads in batting with .281, Weaver

In a statement recently issued, he has decided to start Weaver at short and Risberg in the game. Concerning Gandil and Eddie Collins, there is no doubt as both are veterans. Collins leads in batting with .281, Weaver

VETERANS OF OTHER WORLD SERIES FOUND ON INFIELDS OF TWO CONTENDING TEAMS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Oct. 4.—A majority of the veterans of preceding World Series will be found in the infields of the New York Nationals and the Chicago Americans when these two teams meet late this week in the 1917 series. Of the eight players who are expected to defend the inner lines four have already passed through one or more of these baseball classics and of this quartet three will wear the uniforms of the Giants and one the colors of the White Sox. Another peculiarity is that the veteran material will cluster between second and third bases the initial sack being guarded by less experienced players.

At first base, Manager McGraw will place his reliance in Holke while the Chicago interests will be defended by Gandil. In years of service and the knowledge which comes with it, Gandil will have the edge over his younger opponent. Both are steady, consistent players covering the bag and the adjacent territory without spectacular effort but with a high degree of efficiency.

According to their records for the past season in their respective leagues there is little to choose between them so far as fielding or batting is concerned. Holke has a slight advantage of the averages in both these departments as well as in stolen bases and double plays. He is also three years younger than Gandil but when all is considered it is likely that the latter's greater experience will slightly outweigh Holke's speedier footwork. The margin of advantage is so small one way or the other that so far as forecasts are concerned, the two players may be said to be equal in offensive and defensive work.

Two of the best second basemen in their respective leagues will be opposed at the midway sack and the struggle for honors between Eddie Collins and Charles Herzog should be one of the thrilling features of the series. World Series play is no longer a novelty to either as Collins has participated in four such conflicts while a member of the Philadelphia Athletics and Herzog has seen service in three series with the Giants. Both are noted for their ability to rise to extreme heights of play at times and from their keystone position to dominate the work of the entire infield combinations.

Herzog owing to the injury to his back due to a fall earlier in the season, has not played as regularly as Collins and there is just the bare possibility that he may not be available for the series but this chance is so remote that he can for comparative purposes be considered as the Giants second baseman. If it proves to be otherwise the stock of the New York club will suffer a severe slump even before the first ball is pitched. As their records stand for the season Collins had the better of Herzog in batting, fielding, stolen bases and double plays. The same is true of his averages in past World Series. Collins has batted .338 and fielded .975 in four series to Herzog's .214 and .958 in three past season struggles.

If Herzog enters the fray benefited by the rest he insisted on taking after the Giants had virtually clinched the pennant, he may prove to be capable of more efficient work than his records would indicate for he is one of the best "money players" in the game today. He is a dangerous batter at critical moments of the play; resourceful and daring in the field and a man who is not willing to concede defeat until the final out is made. Collins, however, on such records and form as are available must be given the edge at second over the Giant's guarantor of the keystone base.

Injuries also complicate the situation at short and third. The White Sox regular third baseman, "Buck" Weaver broke one of his fingers in a game late in the season and did not return to the line-up until a few days before the pennant race closed. In the meantime McMullen had held down this position so satisfactory that there is some doubt as to whether Weaver will return to the bag. It would not be surprising if Manager Rowland sent him into the big series as shortstop in place of Risberg.

If this should prove to be the case McMullen will have Zimmerman covering the bag and the adjacent territory without spectacular effort but with a high degree of efficiency. Zimmerman also figures better than McMullen on the season's averages of the two leagues for the Giants' third baseman has batted .296 and fielded .941 in the National circuit while McMullen's averages in the American league are .246 and .928. In double plays and stolen bases Zimmerman also leads but if Weaver goes back to his old position there will be a far closer struggle as the latter is fully equal to holding his own with Zimmerman both at bat and in the field.

Risberg has played short for the Chicago team most of the year and it was his acquisition that finally completed the White Sox baseball machine and made a pennant possible. He is a rather erratic batter, however, and for that reason it is not unlikely that Weaver will be sent to short in the opening game at least and Risberg held on the bench for emergencies. On this basis Weaver would be opposed to Fletcher the Giants' regular shortstop and the White Sox appear to have a little the better in comparison. Weaver is a better hitter than Fletcher; fully as fast and accurate in fielding and considerably faster on the bases. Should Risberg cover short then it will be Fletcher who will have the edge both in experience and effective playing. During the season just closed the Chicago club has used Jourdan and Byrne several times as utility infielders in addition to those already mentioned. Byrne was recently released, however, and Jourdan is not likely to get into the game unless Gandil is hurt. Hans Lobert and J. Smith have also figured similarly for the New York team but they will also be held in reserve and not used unless there should be a serious upset in the present infield combination.

The records of these players are included with the regulars in the following list of batting and fielding averages; stolen bases and double plays for the purpose of comparison:

PLAYERS AND CLUBS ALIKE GET PROFIT FROM WORLD SERIES

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, Oct. 4.—The biggest financial bonus of the baseball year is to be distributed soon in the form of a division of the gate receipts of the world-series games of 1917. When the New York National and Chicago American League players receive their share of the money, paid in the form of admission charges by the thousands of spectators who will attend the contests, they will be able to deposit to the credit of their bank-accounts sums larger than the yearly income of many of the fans who will witness the play.

The players will not be the only ones to profit, however, for the club-owners and the national commission also come in for a percentage of the receipts, which are expected to exceed a quarter of a million dollars this season. Under the rules of the latter body, which have governed the world-series since 1903, the division is made in the following manner: The national commission receives 10 per cent of the receipts of each and every game played by the contending clubs, the remaining 90 per cent of the first four games is divided, upon a basis of two-thirds to the players of the contending clubs and one-third to the club-owners. With the playing of the fourth game the players cease to share in the receipts and the two clubs involved divide the receipts equally, after the national commission has taken its 10 per cent. The players' share of the world-series funds are apportioned upon a basis of 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser, while the two clubs and corporations are required to contribute a certain amount of their portions to the leagues of which they are members.

That these sums are not to be considered lightly, even in the present days of extraordinary financial operations, may be realized when it is stated that the receipts of the 13 series played since 1903 have aggregated $2,874,224. Of this huge amount the players have received $1,180,823, the club-owners, $1,115,156, and the national commission, $282,245. The rules governing the series specify that each club shall name in advance of the play the men who are eligible to participate in the games. These players each receive one share of the winning or losing teams percentage with certain arrangements for groundkeepers, mascots, and others connected with the teams in a minor capacity.

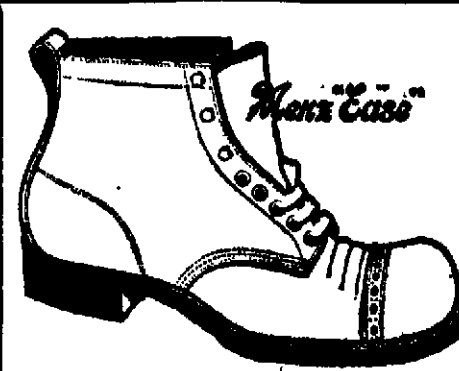

Some idea of the sums that fall to the share of players who engage in the world-series may be gained from a glance of the records of preceding struggles. The largest amount went to the members of the Boston Americans who played and won the eight-game series from the New York Nationals in 1912. That year each regular member of the Red Sox received $4024. The next highest amount was $3910, also captured by the Boston Americans of last season as a result of their defeat of the Brooklyn Nationals. The smallest sum received since 1903 by the individual members of a winning team was $1142—by the New York Nationals in the series against the Philadelphia Americans in 1905. The Chicago Nationals holds the minimum losers record with $439, when the Chicago White Sox won the title in four out of six games in 1906.

MAY RUN SPECIAL RACE FOR AMATEURS; SPEED BOYS ARRIVE

Promoters of Newark's big auto classic next Sunday are considering adding an amateur event to the program, as they have been besieged by numerous "bugs" who desire to see what their cars will do on the same track with the big professionals. Officials of the National Auto Racing Association have been asked to grant a permit to run the amateur race on the same program and if this report is favorable it is planned to run it as the last event of the afternoon's program.

Plans now are for a 10-mile event to be known as the Licking County Amateur Derby, open to non-professional drivers only. This will no doubt prove of considerable interest to local speed followers, as it will afford them an opportunity of comparing the work of America's fastest and most skillful drivers with that of men who have the qualifications but not the experience, and much speculation is rife as to who will stack up the best.

Dale Armentrout, driver of the famous Duesenberg, who met with such a serious accident at Muncie, Indiana last Saturday is still in a serious condition and while his physicians hold out hope for his recovery, it will be many long months before he is himself again. Armentrout's car will be shipped to Newark today and as negotiations are on for several drivers who can handle the big Duesenberg, it is assured the Newark public will have the opportunity of seeing the world's record car in action.

Arrangements have also been made to have a special telegraph service into the judges' stand to report the results of the Worlds Series game on that date. Every inning will be announced from the stand so that baseball fans who want to see the races and get the returns both, can be accommodated.

Among the first cars entered, to arrive in Newark are the Mercedes Special, driven by Bill Hayes, former mechanic for Ralph DePalma; Cole Special, piloted by Ray Huffer of St. Louis; Hudson Super-Six with "Slim" Licklider at the helm, and "Wild Ben" Lawwell of Columbus, with his 30 mile an hour "Ford 16 valve Special." Word has been received from the Sunbeam, Maxwell, Cordelia and Duesenberg and they are expected in at any time.

Curlee's long experience in the automobile field has well equipped him to handle the flags on the track and the Newark motor public are to be congratulated on his decision to locate here, as he is well known in motor circles throughout America and his experience will be an invaluable asset to auto owners in this section.

DENISON WILL PLAY FOR OHIO SOLDIERS AT CAMP SHERIDAN

Granville, Oct. 4.—Final negotiations between the camp authorities at Ft. Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala., and Denison University for a football game to be played at Montgomery Oct. 13, were completed yesterday and the Denison team now is assured of taking the trip which probably will be extended over a week's time. Bucher, who played at end till the injuries to Arthur, was used at fullback last night, with Ferry, Leslie and Matthews at the ends. Captain Cook resumed his place at center after a one-day trial at the fullback position.

It is just beginning to dawn upon the student body at Denison that the absence of Lee Arthur, star fullback, will be keenly felt. This unlucky player now lies in the Newark Hospital with a badly broken leg. It was found upon examination that both bones were broken, which probably means that Arthur will never again carry a football for Denison.

Much speculation was expressed yesterday as to who Livingston would assign to the fullback position. Captain Cook filled the position yesterday. Hodges taking the center.

PLAY IN CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Oct. 4.—Weather conditions permitting, the first of a series of games between the Cleveland Americans and the Cincinnati Nationals to decide the baseball championship of Ohio, will be played here today. The season of the series is scheduled for Cincinnati on Saturday. On Sunday and Monday the two teams will play in Cleveland.

COUNTY SOLDIER PROMISES KAISER'S HEAD AS SOUVENIR

(Special to Advocate.)

Granville, O., Oct. 4.—Two dinners in two weeks, honoring the departing Licking county soldier boys are placed to the credit of the Granville A. F. W. at each of which covers were laid for 80. The forty per cent. quota mobilizing in Granville, Wednesday evening and Thursday morning found a warm and comforting welcome around the beautifully decorated tables in the social rooms of the Presbyterian church where young ladies who have brothers or other relatives in the new army served roast beef and gravy, browned potatoes, stuffed tomatoes, hot rolls with butter, orange marmalade, cold slaw, pumpkin pie, cheese and coffee. The invocation was offered by Dr. Brelsford and at the conclusion of the feast small testimonials were distributed by Rev. Geo. Ewart, the men answering to their names.

Mayor Coons, chairman of the draft board, in a brief but cordial appreciation, introduced J. C. Williams of Hanover, who four times every week since July has attended the meetings of the board in Granville, to the detriment of his own business, which is farming. Mr. Williams made the necessary appointments advising the men as to the proper camp equipment and closed by urging upon them the duty of upholding the dignity of this great country and of this great commonwealth.

Dr. C. J. Lovell, physician of the board was then asked to read a letter he had just received from Clifton Hall of the first five per cent contingent, who reported promotions for each of the eight men.

Mayor Coons closed the exercises by delivering an eloquent address compounded of equal parts of good sound business sense and impassioned patriotism. He closed by warning the boys that the next military order which must be obeyed was to assemble at headquarters for final roll call, at 10 o'clock, Thursday morning, the entire company to lunch at the Buxton House before the departure of the 11:30 car for Newark.

Although the A. F. W. assumed the responsibility of preparing and serving these dinners, the soldiers were really honor guests of the town. In the first instance the woman's organizations furnished the provisions, in the second the men of the town financed the dinner. Everybody was eager to help, but those selected for service were those who had sent or were sending their boys to camp.

It was a bright, cheerful company, and conversation was not lacking. One young man who was present at the first dinner as an alternate said that the boys would remember Granville all right and on his own personal responsibility he promised to "send back the head of the Kaiser."

The first fall meeting of the Women's Music club was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Clark Chamberlain with Mrs. W. P. Ullman, the president, as leader of the Mozart program. She presented a brief view of his life, and his work, especially of "The Magic Flute," selections from which comprised most of the program, opening with a four hand selection played by Mrs. Ashton and Miss Larkin of Newark. Vocal soloists were Mrs. Ogilvie, Mrs. Stickney and Miss Imogene Hamblin; vocal duet, "Smiles and Tears," Mrs. Rohrer and Mrs. Detweiler; the famous trio from the "Magic Flute," Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Coons, Mrs. Stickney; piano soloists, Mrs. Ashton, Miss Eva Wright, Miss Lora Wright, Miss Rockwood and Miss Larkin, who substituted for Mrs. White playing the Pastorale with exquisite effect, accompanists Misses Rockwood and Hulshizer. This notable program was enjoyed by nearly fifty members and guests. Among the latter were noted: Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Newark; Mrs. Carhart, Coshocton; Mrs. Carroll Smith, Endicott, N. Y.; Mrs. Restieux, Columbus; Mrs. W. A. Chamberlain; Mrs. W. H. Johnson; Mrs. C. J. Rose; Mrs. C. E. Slack; Mrs. Lilly Prouty; Mrs. Conran; Mrs. Field; Misses Mary Roberts and Ruth Conant.

The many friends of Miss Clara Hessin are interested to learn of her departure Tuesday evening for North Yakima, Wash., where on Saturday morning her marriage to Mr. Donald Van Winkle will be solemnized in the presence of friends and relatives. Mr. Van Winkle who was a senior in Denison University, left before commencement to engage in the reclamation department of government service where his duties preclude the possibility of long leave.

Miss Emily Colwell of the state library of Columbus is spending the week with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Colwell.

The Woman's Missionary Organization of the Baptist church will meet on Friday afternoon in the church parlors. Miss Wilson will tell of the "Primitive Black Man," and Rev. John Geil will speak of his work in Africa. Circle No. 7 will be hostesses.

Mrs. Stevens of Verona, N. Y., is visiting at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. E. D. Barnes, and will remain until Mrs. Barnes' recovery from an acute illness, which necessitated an operation in Grant Hospital, Columbus, Wednesday morning. The patient is reported doing nicely.

Lee Arthur the full-back on the football squad who suffered from a broken leg in Saturday's game, is reported by his physician, Dr. C. J. Lovell to be doing well in the Newark hospital where he was taken in order to receive expert attention.

Mark up Enoch Johnson, resident of Granville and known to hundreds of Denison College men as Tuesday's star collector for the Columbus branch of the American soldiers' hat and ball fund, says the Ohio State Journal. Quite a while ago, the Johnson collecting license was issued and its holder decided to withhold quarter-taking operations, until the collegians came back to the

STATE CONFERENCE OF S. S. WORKERS IN NEWARK NOV. 30TH

A conference of Sunday school workers, representing most of the Sunday schools in the city, was held at the Y. M. C. A., at which time Mr. Blackburn, the state superintendent of secondary work, told of the need of arousing interest among young men and women between the ages of 13 and 24, and that plans were being made to hold a conference of young men and women from all over the state between these ages, November 30 and December 1-2. Each county is entitled to four delegates—two girls and two boys—who must be key-workers.

He gave to Newark the opportunity and honor of entertaining this conference, which will be the first of its kind ever held. By unanimous vote the invitation was extended to hold the conference here, which was accepted by Mr. Blackburn.

An executive committee was appointed as follows: G. R. Hackney, chairman; G. G. Winter, Ralph Wolzelen, Mrs. Will O'Rannon, Dorothy Roeder and Anna Gardner.

CATARHIAL DEAFNESS MAY BE OVERCOME

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to T. J. Evans of any drugist and get 1 ounce of Par-mint (double strength), and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Cleared nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. Adv.
